Enstrom 'Copter Commandeered In Bandit Chase

DETROIT (AP) — A bandit held up a bank branch in a suburban Southfield center Wednesday and fled in a car.

Police Sgt. Walter Kush, confronted with thousands of cars in the sprawling parking lot, commandeered a helicopter being displayed by R. J. Enstrom Co., of Menominee, and ordered pilot Mott Stanchfield to "follow that car." Stanchfield took Kush up and they looked about for half an hour but couldn't spot the getaway car.

The bandit got away with $3,930.

Romney Told 'No Deal' On Vet Tax Bill

LANSING (AP)—Democratic legislative leaders told Gov. George Romney "no deal" Wednesday on a proposal that a veterans property tax exemption bill be renegotiated instead of vetoed.

House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, each said after meeting with Romney that they would push for an override of the Republican governor's expected veto.

Neither would speculate on what kind of compromise might be attempted if the override fails.

The bill passed by the Legislature nearly is identical to a measure Romney vetoed last year. Override failed last December.

The measure would increase the present exemption for disabled veterans and veterans' widows from $2,000 state-qualified valuation to $3,500. It would cost an estimated $4.5 million to $6 million.

Romney is backing a plan whereby exemptions would be scaled to amount of disability for veterans and kept at a flat $2,500 for widows. He estimates it would cost $2.5 million.

The governor has indicated for weeks he would veto the bill again.

Kowalski quoted him as declaring again at the meeting he would veto.

Saturday Is Senate D-Day For Cavanagh

DETROIT (AP) — A veritable whirlwind of reaction has followed the reported decision of Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh to run for the U.S. Senate.

Cavanagh, 48 hours away from his scheduled Saturday announcement of actual intentions, kept his own counsel today amid a furor. He avoided saying anything positive.

On Saturday he is to say definitely one way or the other whether he'll challenge former Gov. G. Mennen Williams for the Democratic nomination.

Democratic politics suddenly came alive on the reports Cavanagh had decided to run.

Meanwhile, Cavanagh put out a teaser to questioners Wednesday. "The press," he said, "is notorious for speculation and all too often has been correct."

Demos Speculate

That was a reference to Tuesday's published reports that he had decided to run—and which he refused to confirm.

"My decision is not yet made," he said.

Speculation was heard from Democrats in Lansing.

Rep. F. Charles Raap, D-Muskegon, assistant majority floor leader in the House, expressed disbelief that Cavanagh would run.

Raap said he thought Cavanagh was "just playing this situation for everything it's worth."

"I'll believe it when he announces," said Albert R. Horrigan, D-Flint, House speaker pro tem.

Cavanagh, who is 37, would be in the role of a newcomer to top Democratic politics in any vote fight with the 55-year-old veteran Williams, six times, governor.

Council Support

From the Republican side came a "welcome into the water—it's deep"—to Cavanagh from U.S. Rep. Robert Griffin. Griffin is the Republicans' preferred candidate for the GOP Senate nomination in the Aug. 2 primary election.

The Traverse City congressman said a Democratic split over Cavanagh and Williams might help the GOP.

At home from within his own City Council, Cavanagh received varying support for a fight against Williams.

Detroit's government formally is nonpartisan.

Councilman James H. Brickley, a Republican privately, said he'd "never be against Cavanagh." He said Cavanagh's strength is outside normal political channels and "that's how he came into the mayor's office."

William Rogell, another republican councilman, said he would support Cavanagh in the primary.

Plan Marquette Tercentenary

LANSING (AP) — A Senate committee named a former Congressman and a historical writer Wednesday to uphold Michigan's interest in what the committee said would be "tremendous competition" in the 300th anniversary of the landing of Father Jacques Marquette.

Former U.S. Rep. Harold Ryan and writer-businessman Stephan Spilos said they would work with a national commission named by President Johnson to formulate a national celebration.

Father Marquette arrived in Quebec in 1666 and two years later founded the first Michigan settlement at Sault Ste. Marie. The national celebration is to center about the nine Midwestern states explored by Father Marquette.

Ice Cream Up

DETROIT (AP)—Ice cream is going up in price in the Detroit area shortly. And price increases for milk and all milk products also are likely.

Industry spokesmen drew the picture Wednesday in blaming a variety of causes.

The retail price of ice cream will go up about 10 cents a half-gallon, said a Food Industry Committee spokesman. He said a milk shortage has forced up prices to manufacturers.

Police Case Watts Unrest

Negro Talk Of 'Get Mexicans' Makes Tension

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A tense but hopeful calm settled on riot-torn Watts today as the mostly Negro community emerged from a nightmare that briefly resembled last summer's deadly rampage.

City, county and state officials moved in rapidly, trying to assess the damage and find the causes of rioting that broke out Tuesday afternoon, leaving 2 men dead, 26 persons injured and 49 arrested.

The riot area—in south-central Los Angeles—was still under rigid police control, with the main street blocked to all but commercial traffic. Attendance at Jordan High School was only about 50 per cent of normal, said the principal, Dr. William J. Settle.

For two weeks we'd been hearing rumors that the Negroes were planning to run the Mexican and white businessmen out of Watts," said Police Detective G. H. Riley. "And we'd noticed that the Mexicans seemed tense, afraid."

But, Riley said Wednesday, "we couldn't do much about a rumor until it became a fact. Until Tuesday, we didn't have anything tangible enough to nip in the bud."

Tuesday, after a routine arrest near Jordan High School in Watts, center of Los Angeles' teeming, sprawling Negro district, a riot bloomed into ugly flower across an area already devastated by six days of racial violence last August.

Between 3:30 p.m., when restless high school pupils went into the streets looking for an excuse for a fight and found one in the arrest, and 8:30 p.m., when police hopefully pronounced the disturbance contained, two persons were killed, 26 were injured, 49 were arrested, many cars were overturned and burned and 19 buildings were damaged or looted.

But Riley and his partner, Detective C. L. Larson, said the arrest, over a rock-throwing incident, only served to trigger the riot.

The violence, brewing for weeks, was fed by rumor and was actually born in a series of shootings Monday night, they said.

Fight Started It

Larson gave this account: A Mexican-American, about 25, on crutches — who has not yet been located — and Duane Graves, 16, a Negro, got into a fight Monday night at Bob's Liquor Store, 2066 E. 103rd St., a stone's throw from the high school.

George Sanders and John Newman, both 22, both Negroes, broke up the fight and went into the store. Graves ran a block down the street.

A carload of Mexican-Americans cruised by and shotguns Graves, wounding him in the left arm and leg, then drove

Gemini 8 Pair Down Safe In Quick Re-Entry

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts rode a destroyer toward Okinawa today, while space officials dug into the mystery of the violent mishap that brought their mission to a hair-raising end in the waters of the Pacific Ocean.

The destroyer Leonard F. Mason, which picked Neil Armstrong and David Scott out of the water after the first emergency landing in U.S. man-in-space history, was scheduled to put them ashore at Naha at 6 p.m. EST.

Both were reportedly to have come safely through the dangerous re-entry which abruptly terminated their scheduled three-day flight just 10 hours, 42 minutes after the blastoff.

At a morning news conference at Houston, Flight Director Gene Kranz said it will be some time before officials can say what caused Gemini to buck in space, knocking the astronauts out of their seats.

The trouble which sent the spacecraft into a hair-raising spin happened when there was no voice or telemetry communication between earth and the spacecraft. The cause will not be known, Kranz said, until after an extensive review of flight data.

Real Cool

The astronauts were given a preliminary one-hour physical examination soon after boarding the Mason and were reported in good condition.

An air rescue pilot who flew over the Gemini as it bobbed in the calm waters of the Western Pacific said the pilots were "acting real cool" after the harrowing experience.

Armstrong and Scott had opened the spacecraft hatches. Capt. John W. Maddox, of Mesa, Ariz., said, "and they were just sitting there enjoying the sun and eating lunch."

But the troubles they experienced apparently were so dangerous that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration refused to let newsmen hear tape recordings of the astronauts' voices during the critical period when Gemini 8 was out of control 185 miles above the earth.

"None of us know what happened," Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center, told a post-midnight news conference today.

Johnson Relieved
"But it was very serious and it took utmost effort of the crew to regain control and conduct a safe re-entry and landing."

President Johnson reported he was "greatly relieved" at the safe return of the astronauts and praised their "skill and strength."

Armstrong, a civilian, and Scott, an Air Force major, today were aboard the USS Leonard F. Mason, the destroyer that retrieved them from the Western Pacific early today.

The Mason was due in Naha, Okinawa, about 6 p. m., EST today. The astronauts will be flown to Cape Kennedy Friday to tell their story to anxious officials.

What they have to say will have an important bearing on the future of the U.S. space program. The whole concept of hooking up with another satellite might have to be changed.

The trouble cropped up only half an hour after they achieved the first linkup with another satellite.

Docking Achieved

At 6:30 p.m. EST, command pilot Armstrong climaxed a brilliant space chase by gently nudging the Gemini 8 nose into a funnel-like docking collar of a 26-foot-long Agena space vehicle.

"It is really a smoothie," Armstrong said when the docking was completed.

But his elation was short lived.

Mission directors at the control center in Houston, Tex., suddenly were jolted out of their seats when tracking data indicated the joined spaceships were rolling.

"It took off in roll and yaw," Armstrong reported.

"Until we know what the sequence of events are, we don't

State Car Crash Bill, $217 Million

LANSING (AP)—Preliminary figures indicate automobile insurance companies paid out a record $217 million for the care of injured and repair of wrecks following traffic accidents in Michigan last year. American Freed By E. Germans, In Good Shape

BERLIN (AP) — John Van Altena Jr., 21, an American released by the East Germans after serving 17 months of an 8-year sentence, was reported "in pretty good shape" today.

Van Altena, of Milton Junction, Wis., was convicted in January 1965 of trying to smuggle an East German woman and her child through the Berlin wall in the trunk of his car. He was arrested in October 1964 and released at the wall Wednesday.

"The East Germans claimed they caught him in the act," his mother, Mrs. John Van Altena, said in Milton Junction. "In his letters to us he never denied he did it but he said not to believe everything he heard."

She said her son went to Germany about six months before his arrest to work for West Germany's Lufthansa Airline.

An informed source in Berlin said Van Altena wanted to get back home. He was taken to an undisclosed location in West Berlin to rest, the source said.

Van Altena's parents said they were told their son had been taken to a U.S. Army hospital in West Germany for a physical examination.

His father, 49, a dairy farmer, said John's release had been arranged by lawyers Wolfgang Vogel of East Berlin, Jurgen Spange of West Berlin and Rickey New of Washington, D.C. Vogel was involved in the exchange of Soviet spy Col. Rudolf Abel for captured U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers in Berlin in 1962.

"We started trying to find a way to secure my son's release as soon as we received word of his arrest," the elder Van Altena said.

The Van Altenas said the State Department told them on Monday that the release was pending but asked them to keep it secret in case a hitch developed.

"I was notified by telephone yesterday that he had been freed," Van Altena said. "It was a great relief."

He and his wife, Adele, had written to their son on "numerous occasions but only received five letters from him," Van Altena said.

Most Urgent Issue?

League Invites Comment From Council Candidates

What is the "most urgent issue" facing the city government of Escanaba?

This question and two others have been submitted to the nine candidates for the City Council for answers as a part of the Escanaba League of Women Voters' voter information service program.

The League of Women Voters has extended an invitation to each of the nine candidates to participate in its presentation of candidates at a public meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce building on Monday, March 28, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Earl Owen, voters service chairman, will be moderator for the meeting. The timekeeper will be Mrs. Walter Kulik and Mrs. Ralph Anderson will be in charge of coffee and refreshments.

Public Invited
"All voting citizens are urged to attend," the League emphasized.

The questions addressed to each of the candidates are:

- 1 - "In Escanaba we have a City Manager-Council form of government. Under this plan what is your understanding of the relationship of the City Council to the City Manager?"
- 2 - "In your opinion what is the most urgent issue facing the City government? What would be your recommendation?"

3 - "What do you estimate will be the number of hours per month required to perform the duties of a councilman?"

To Inform Voters
The candidates have received copies of the questions so they may have ample time to consider the answers they will present at the March 28 meeting.

The League has asked each candidate to reply by March 22 whether he will be present personally or will be represented by a proxy.

"As a non-partisan organization concerned with promotion of good government, the League is interested in making information about candidates for public office available to the voters," the League announced.

Acceptances
Three candidates have so far accepted the League's invitation to appear at its candidates' meeting. They are Mrs. Frank Neumeier, Cecil Chase and Harold Vanlerberghe.

Questions From Floor
The order of the meeting will be: Introduction, panel seating, and questioning will be determined by the candidates drawing numbers passed by the League moderator at the opening of the meeting.

Candidates are to answer the first question within two minutes, the second in four, and the third in one minute.

After all candidates have spoken, written questions from the floor will be accepted.

The city election will be held on Monday, April 4. At that time the voters will elect two councilmen for terms of four years and one for an unexpired term of two years.

The resignation of Jacob A. Bink for reasons of health created the mid-term vacancy.

Students Look At City Affairs

Firsthand knowledge of Escanaba municipal operations will be presented to 300 students of Escanaba Area Public High School at a city government institute to be held at the school the morning of April 19.

Information will be presented to the students in government classes at the High School by City Manager George Harvey and city department heads. The program was initiated last year and the students rated it worthwhile and asked that it be continued.

The session will be from 8:45 to 11:45 a. m. with only one five-minute break, said Mrs. Elnora Veder, who with John Connolly are organizing the institute. Both are government teachers at the High School.

Information to the citizens on government usually emphasize government operation at state and national levels, while local government affairs receive little attention, it was pointed out. The City Government Institute is sponsored to counteract this oversight.

The institute is not a substitute for, but is a supplement to student government day, which will be held May 5.

State Schedules Deer Yard Tours

Persons interested in learning first hand conditions in the deer yards of the Upper Peninsula are invited to join in one or more of the deer yard tours scheduled by the Department of Conservation.

Department biologists and other personnel will present explanations of deer habitat, said Joseph Vogt, Escanaba, district game biologist. Each tour will last three or four hours.

Persons participating in a tour should be sure they are suitably clothed for several hours in the woods. Footwear should be waterproof, for travel will include walking through swamps and wet lowlands.

MSU Will Build Post Office Run By Machines

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Post Office Department plans to open a 24-hour-a-day post office, run entirely by machines, on the campus of Michigan State University.

Just in case a human's assistance is needed, the office also will include a direct-line telephone to the nearest manned post office, Frederick C. Belen, deputy postmaster general, said.

"If the experiment is successful—and we fully expect success—it may be the forerunner of others for colleges and the urban developments," Belen told about 500 Michigan postmasters attending a training session.

Machines will sell stamps, make change for coins or currency, weigh packages and indicate rates for sending them.

MSU will build the structure, Belen said.

Belen said four other experimental units are in operation in other states, but this would be the first on a college campus and the first to cater to predominantly pedestrian traffic.

First Salmon Plantings Set

LANSING — Two ceremonies to mark the first introduction of coho (silver) salmon into Michigan waters have been scheduled for Saturday, April 2, by the Conservation Department. The date was selected to coincide with the opening of special early-season trout fishing on designated streams and lakes.

One of the coho ceremonies will be held at the Department's Platte River Trout Rearing Station in Benzie County.

The other, scheduled for the same day, will be held at Big Eric's Bridge on the Big Huron River east of Skaneateles in Baraga County.

The Platte and Big Huron Rivers are two of three streams selected to receive initial stockings of about 250,000 coho salmon each as the Conservation Department kicks off a long-range program to establish this species in the Great Lakes for the future benefit of sport and commercial fishermen. The third stream is Bear Creek in Manistee County.

It is expected the young salmon, called smolts, will quickly migrate downstream into Lake Michigan and Superior, grow for two years, then return to the rivers to spawn. A few fast-maturing fish may come back this fall.

Howard A. Tanner, chief of the Department's Fish Division, said separate ceremonies are planned in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas to make wide public participation possible.

"We believe this coho salmon program has tremendous potential for Michigan fishing. We therefore hope that members of the Legislature, local officials, fishermen, and other interested people will turn out for these events. April 2 could well become a landmark date in state conservation history," Tanner said.

Tanner explained that token plantings of coho smolts during the April 2 ceremonies will be only symbolic. Releases of the main stocks of fish, reared in state hatcheries from eggs supplied by Oregon, must be timed to critical conditions of weather and water temperature. They most likely will be made at night to help insure high survival.

Forests cover about 20,000,000 acres in Turkey.

We're More Irish

'Tis St. Patrick's Day today, and it's a good thing that St. Patrick is a saint because he's certainly got a lot to answer for this day.

There was a time when being Irish was just a minor misfortune of birth that got you into trouble with the English and subjected you to living with a lot of other Irishmen—and they can be difficult, me spalpeens—but today they say the whole world's Irish on St. Patrick's Day and that's watering down the emerald and the poteen quite a bit.

There are now more Irishmen outside of Ireland than there are in it. There are more Irish in New York City than in Dublin, or Cork or any other Irish city. And they'll be marching today on Fifth Avenue to show that the Dutch may have settled the place originally, but they didn't keep it very long once they created a police force with a lot of jobs in it.

If the whole world is going to be Irish on St. Patrick's Day it should learn some things that come naturally to the Irish. One of them is that money is the root of evil and should be taken to a bar and invested in what the late Brendan Behan—Lord rest his soul, never was there a house painter with a better cure for painter's colic—called "gargle."

(It is a little unfortunate that Behan overgargled because he gave the world an image of the Irish house painter at play—especially when he became famed as a story teller and playwright—that was as wet as the bog of Athlone.)

Being Irish is being willing to believe in fairies.—Not the kind that Barrie created for Peter Pan; they're English fairies and no good Irishman would give them cottage space. Our grandmothers from Ireland told us about the necessity of putting out a pail of water in the kitchen at night for the fairies to drink and now that grannies come from Suwannee and not from Kildare we've got hog jowls and chitlins in our kitchen talk and no more mention of pixies.

It's interesting that the farther we get from Ireland in time the dearer she becomes in our imagery. And yet when we go to Europe for vacation, Spain is No. 1. A current fad is "Polish" jokes but on any shipboard when there's a loose flap of rope flying it's disparaged as an "Irish pennant," and a form of malapropisms is known as Irish "bulls."

For a century we've heard that "there'll always be an England" but the way the British Empire has been shrinking it's not nearly such a good bet as it was in Victoria's time. Maybe the quip should have been "There'll always be an Ireland" because with no growth of the Emerald Isle geographically, and even with a decline in its population its children around the world are growing by the millions.

And not only that, Culhane, but where politics is stressing nationalism, romanticism is stressing being Irish.

In this scrambled world where a Johnson may be mostly Irish and an O'Rourke mostly Lebanese, it is no longer safe to guess at a person's ancestry.

The Irish have been distinguished in many fields of art and science, but the national characteristic that endears them to the world and makes the world a bit Irish always and all the world Irish on St. Patrick's Day is imagery, drawing on the imagination as well as the hard nobs of life for the feel of things. In a world increasingly caught up in science and the grinding certainties of physics, the Irish are still looking for moonbeams with Dylan Thomas as a guide Under Milk Wood.

St. Patrick is famed for having chased the snakes out of Ireland, but the potato famines of the 1840s achieved even more, perversely (in the Irish manner) because they caused the emigration of so many of the Irish that their haven has enriched America and the world.

Frank O'Connor (Michael O'Donovan), the Irish story teller who died last week in Dublin, in a moment of truth confessed that like the Irish Republican Army's "make-believe revolution, I had to content myself with a make-believe education, and the curious things is that it was the make believe that succeeded."

There's the perit of it, as the Irish say in Flatbush. When all else fails there's Irish make-believe, and there's a lot of failing in this world today.

The Doctor Says: Cobalt Cannot Cause Cancer

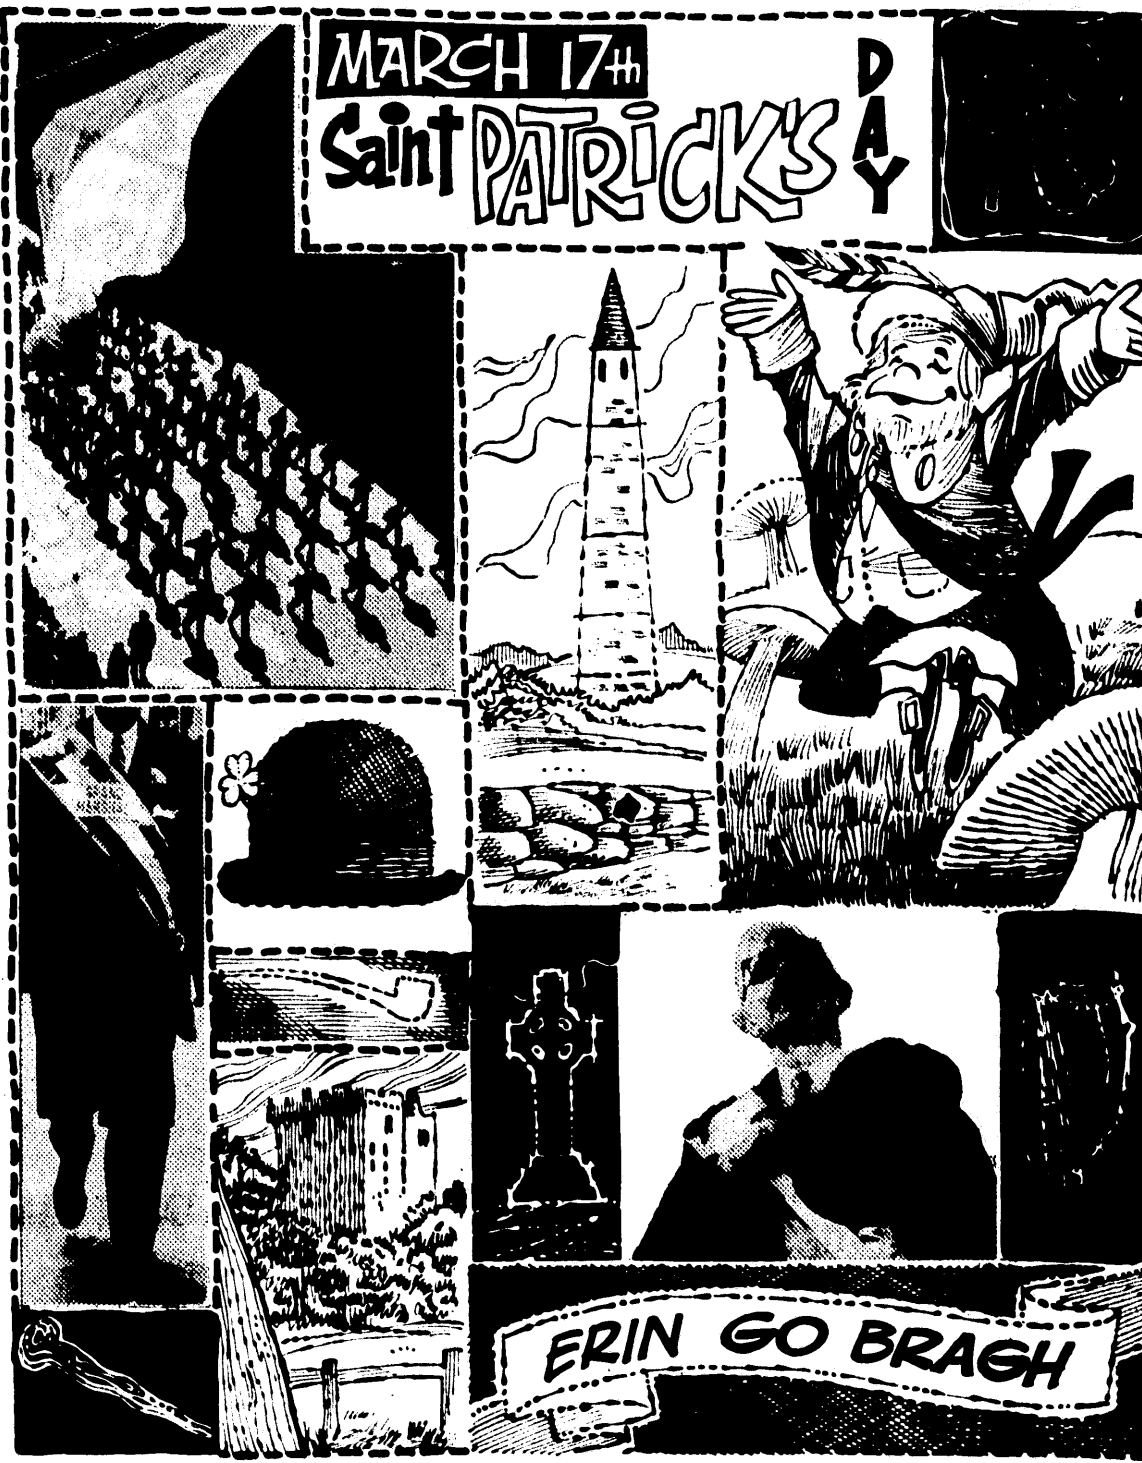

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt
Q—Doctors have diagnosed after puberty or persists after my wife as having fibrocystic disease of the breast, recurring carcinoma of the breast with metastases. Are any of these related to cancer? Could cobalt treatments result in cancer?

A—Fibrocystic mastitis is an inflammation of the breast which is not malignant but should be watched because it may become cancerous. Carcinoma is one type of breast cancer and "recurrent" implies a return of the cancer in an area where it has been removed. Metastasis is the process of spreading to another part of the body, often far removed from the original site. This is the characteristic that makes cancer so vicious and so hard to cure. A breast cancer may metastasize to the spine and other bones. Since cobalt treatments are given in an effort to kill cancer, they cannot be said to have caused it.

Q—What treatment do you recommend for a man whose breasts are much larger than average for a male?

A—All persons have both male and female hormones in their blood, but in men the male hormones predominate and in women the female. Enlargement of the breast in men may occur at puberty, but this is associated with an increase in the pituitary hormone rather than the female hormone. In most young men this enlargement subsides in about two years. It may persist or at least be more noticeable, in men who are obese.

Q—When was the late Charles Dawes awarded the Nobel Peace Prize?
A—In 1925 it was divided between Mr. Dawes, who was then vice president of the United States, and Sir Austen Chamberlain of England.

Cong Sags Gravely

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Many misleading things are being said or implied about the role of the Viet Cong and their political arm, the National Liberation Front, in South Viet Nam.

These matters deserve examination, since they stand at the heart of the argument many Democratic senators are making—that the NLF must be included as an independent entity in any negotiations and possibly also in interim and permanent governments to follow.

Citing South Vietnamese Premier Cao Ky as his source, New York's Sen. Robert Kennedy has said often that the Vietnamese government in Saigon controls only 25 per cent of the country's population of 15 million.

In the context of his remarks, the clear implication is inevitably left that the Viet Cong control the other 75 per cent.

Other critics of administration policy in Viet Nam have said or implied again and again that, for all practical purposes, the Viet Cong are the dominant force in that land.

These notions do not fit the known judgments of appraisers close to the South Vietnamese scene.

First off, most cited figures affecting control cover the rural population, leaving out of account the people in Saigon, Hue and a few other key cities.

Using those noncity calculations, it is stated today by responsible appraisers that the government controls 25 per cent of the people, the Viet Cong another 25 per cent, and the remaining 50 per cent are in a no-man's-land of shifting control—but clearly not under the Red heel.

If the 1.6 million in South Viet Nam's four largest cities be thrown into the balance, the proportion of the people under

Answers Questions And

Q—What is the greatest solvent?
A—Water. It dissolves to a greater or lesser extent almost all substances with which it comes in contact.

Q—What is the minimum age for opening postal savings accounts?
A—Any person 10 years of age or over may start an account.

Q—Which American politician was called "Young Hickory"?
A—James Knox Polk, United States president from 1845 to 1849, because of some resemblances to "Old Hickory"—Andrew Jackson, seventh U. S. president.

Q—What are the nearest relatives, biologically speaking, of birds?
A—Reptiles. Though birds have advanced far beyond the most highly developed reptiles, their kinship, reaching back more than 100 million years, remains.

DEER POLICY

As you like to give so much space to the pro-conservation Department writers, maybe you could find space for the enclosed article from the Thursday, Feb. 24, issue of Michigan AFL-CIO News — Champ Edition.

Charles Stewart
614 Minneapolis
Gladstone

On Saturday, Feb. 19, Brother Lawrence Hartman, Don and myself started from my home at 24 W. Tennyson about 6:15 a.m. for Mio, Mich., where we met with Brother August Scholle and a large number of the men, women and children.

We arrived in Mio about 9:30 and went to the high school to listen to the experts from the Conservation Department try to explain what has happened to our deer herd, which we all know at one time was plentiful.

Until someone had the idea of killing does and fawns, they showed all kinds of trees and foliage, and explained that some of it was good deer food, some was fair and some was no good.

We were told that in the Mio District, there were 20 deer per square mile. After about 1 1/2 hours, we were led north from Mio about 4 miles and then due west. Every now and then, we would stop and all get out and one of the experts from the Conservation Department would show everyone what the Conservation Department was doing to keep the deer from starving to death.

EACH TIME they would show us a place where they were cutting down trees or pushing them over with a big bulldozer. You could look across the road and you would see a runner saying: "Private — Keep Out! After 3 or 4 stops, I asked them why all this cutting was being done and why was it always beside a private club? They said it was very hard to find a place where there were no private clubs. I remarked, I thought this was not correct. We had a very good discussion on this.

I then asked when were they doing to clear up our streams and lakes and was told this was handled in Lansing.

After 3 or 4 hours of driving around, we came to the end of the trip. I want all of you to know there was about two inches of snow and on the south side of the hills, where the sun could get through, there was no snow on the ground.

On the complete round trip we saw one set of deer tracks, one grouse track, some fox tracks, about 12 sets of rabbit tracks and several coyote tracks.

During the board meeting in Lansing, I was told that deer were starving in the deer yards. I took my camera along so I could take some pictures, but I never witnessed any of the so-called starvation.

In closing, I would like to say, if there are 20 deer per square mile around Mio, someone must have them in a pen someplace.

I would like to urge you to write a card or letter to: August Scholle, Michigan State AFL-CIO, 716 Lothrop, Detroit, Mich.

The Family Lawyer

SUING UNCLE SAM

Camping out in Yellowstone National Park, a man was attacked during the night by a rambunctious black bear.

Later he sued the federal government for damages, blaming Park Rangers for not warning him of an outburst of similar attacks in the area.

Until recent years such a claim would have been tossed out of court. Even if the government's employees had been guilty of negligence, a lawsuit was blocked by the ancient doctrine that "the King (that is, the government) can do no wrong." A victim's only hope then was to be compensated by a special act of Congress.

But in 1946, Congress passed the Federal Tort Claims Act, opening the door for the first time to suits of this kind. The bear-bitten camper in the case above, suing under the Act, did win substantial damages for his injuries.

By and large, the Tort Claims Act is limited to cases of negligence. Thus it does not let you collect for various intentional wrongs by government employees, such as assault and battery or false imprisonment. Nor does it extend to injuries caused by decisions made at the higher levels of government, such as a decision to conduct nuclear tests in Nevada.

Neither are you entitled to payment merely because your injury happened to occur on government property. You must also have a legitimate cause for complaint. For example, a sightseer who slipped and fell in a corridor of the Capitol building was denied damages from the government, because there simply wasn't anything wrong with the floor.

It is in the ordinary negligence situations that you now have a right to sue Uncle Sam. To illustrate:

A motorist won damages from the government after his car was struck by a careless FBI agent.

A woman won damages from the government after she lost her footing and was injured on a slippery ramp at a Veterans' Hospital.

And a woman won damages from the government after a faulty window at the local post office came crashing down on her fingers.

In other words, nowadays the "King" not only can be wrong but also can be made to pay for it.

Ann Landers You'd Look Better If You Lost 15 Pounds

Dear Ann Landers: I have been going with Tom for three years. It's his right name and you can use it. Our friends and relatives know all about this situation and you won't embarrass me one bit.

Tom was supposed to give me a ring for my birthday two years ago but his horse got sick and the ring money went for an operation. He took the band off his cigar and said "We are engaged." That was it.

Tom spends every spare minute at the barn. He owns three horses and if one doesn't look right he will break a date with me to sit and talk to the vet. Last night I was trying to get him to set a wedding date and he called me "Debbie" (that's the name of his filly).

His whole life is wrapped up in horses. He even smells like a horse. He says he smells like a woman but the horses come first. Should I marry him if I can get him to agree on a June wedding?—UNDECIDED

Dear Undecided: Any woman who would consider marrying a man after he has told her that she is running fourth (after three horses yet) doesn't need advice. She needs a saliva test.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know whether to laugh or cry, feel complimented or insulted, slap the guy's face or give him a great big hug.

Here's the rundown and I'd like your advice. I'm 20, single, not beautiful, but no house-haunter either. A very attractive man, also single, (and one I'd like to know better) came by my desk a few minutes ago and said, "If you will lose 15 pounds, let your hair grow back to its natural color and put on a little lipstick I will buy your dinner at the finest restaurant in town."

Half of me says he is an insufferable jackass who has a lot of crust trying to make me over. The other half of me says if he wasn't interested he wouldn't have been so brazen.

How do you figure it?—BOWLED OVER

Dear Bowled: He may be an insufferable jackass but I'll bet you'd look a lot better if you lost 15 pounds, let your hair grow back to its natural color and put on a little lipstick. Why don't you take him up on it? He may have to stand in line to buy you that dinner.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 15-year-old girl who feels as if she is ready for the booby hatch. There are four generations living in this house and it's more than I can stand.

My mom is O. K., and we would get along fine if only her mother and her grandmother weren't on her back every minute.

My grandmother is 62 years old and very old-fashioned and bossy. She tells mom that all teen-agers today are wild and that I should not be allowed to date until I am out of high school.

Great-grandma is 83 years old and she bosses both my grandmother and my mother. She also bosses me.

My dad says I have to be respectful of my elders and must mind them all. Please, please give me some help.—LOONSVILLE

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Seems like all garage mechanics learn in school is how to point out all the other things wrong with your car.

Come spring, Mom will really take Dad to task in the garden.

Disturbed Child Help Proposed

LANSING (AP)—A bipartisan $6.3 million program to aid emotionally disturbed children has been introduced in the Senate.

The plan would appropriate $4.03 million for operation of services for such youngsters at Kalamazoo, Newberry, Northville, Pontiac, Traverse City and Ypsilanti state hospitals.

Another $2.26 million would go toward construction or remodeling of facilities for the emotionally disturbed at Hawthorn Center, Pontiac, Traverse City and Ypsilanti state hospitals, and other remodeling at any of the six state mental hospitals.

The plan was introduced by Sens. Roger Craig, D-Deerborn, and Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids.

Some $1.05 million of the construction money would go for completion of a $2 million children's unit at Hawthorn Center. Another $332,500 would complete a children's unit at Pontiac and $500,000 would begin a $1.8 million children's unit at Traverse City.

Ypsilanti would get $18,000 for remodeling of its York Woods Center and $40,000 to develop a recreation area.

The other $620,000 would remodel existing facilities for use as in-patient children's quarters at the six hospitals.

The construction recommendations are nearly four times the $1.08 million recommended by Gov. George Romney for the same projects.

MSU Expands Earn And Learn Teacher Plans

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University is expanding its earn-while-you-learn program for training teachers—a program MSU says has done much more than just help students with small bankrolls.

The Elementary Intern Program (EIP) was designed originally to allow community college graduates to earn MSU bachelor's degrees without the expense of spending two full years on campus.

The two-year program includes one full year of supervised, paid teaching in an elementary school in addition to classwork and student teaching at an internship center.

Now MSU officials are finding that about 90 per cent of the program's 300 graduates so far still are teaching, a higher rate than for traditional training programs.

The experimental project began in 1959 with support from the Ford Foundation.

EIP currently enrolls 265 students in six area coordinating centers—Alpena, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Bay City-Saginaw, Port Huron and South Macomb.

The program involves eight community colleges and 38 public school systems. Expansion next fall will include opening centers serving Ingham County and Livonia.

Retired Farmer Is Spry At 101

DETROIT (AP)—At 101, Adam Wurster enjoys an occasional drink, smokes cigars and walks half a mile every morning.

He has never been to a doctor. He wears eyeglasses, carries a cane. When he was 82 he got some new teeth.

Stepping off a plane from Florida the other day, he disdained the airline's proffered wheelchair and walked away spryly.

"I'll probably go to Florida again next winter," he said.

Wurster, a retired farmer, came to America from his native Germany when he was 16. His wife died in 1919. He has 49 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Buys Tank For Plaything For His Two Sons

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Jerry Bouman Jr. finally got his new toy home for the kiddies. But it wasn't easy.

The toy is a 19-ton Army tank which Bouman bought from a Detroit tavern keeper. He hopes to use it to give his wife and three children rides around their 11-acre property in suburban Belmont.

"I'm a bug on tanks and my wife is almost as bad," Bouman said.

Bouman and the tank arrived home Monday after an overnight trip from Detroit.

The tank was hauled the 145 miles on a flat bed truck at a cost of $214, about a third the price of the tank.

Impossible?
Of Course!

We feel the same way about coffee. We don't believe one blend can satisfy every taste.

That's why we have three blends of A&P Coffee. Some like a mild, mellow coffee. That's our Eight O'Clock.

Some like a medium blend that's rich and full-bodied. That's our Red Circle.

Some like a strong blend that's vigorous and winey. That's our Bokar.

Each is a blend of the finest coffees of its type.

In fact, there are no finer coffees in any package at any price.

Is A&P Coffee a good reason for shopping A&P?
It's one of many.

Scholar Claims Two St. Pats

DETROIT (AP) — An Irish scholar who refuses to wear green on St. Patrick's Day says the famous saint, as we know him, "is a big legend."

Dr. John Mahoney, 37, a University of Detroit professor two generations removed from counties Cork and Kerry, said "there were two Patricks."

Mahoney, an authority on Irish folklore, history and legends, reads and writes the ancient languages of the Celts, Irish, Welsh, Cornish, Bretons and inhabitants of the Isle of Man.

"St. Patrick would have needed a life span of 125 years to accomplish what the records indicate," said Mahoney. "We have documents of another Patrick far too early for the St. Patrick we now celebrate."

"The first probably did part of the work we credit to St. Patrick."

Mahoney believes the first was a man named Palladius, later known by his second name, Uatricus, or Patrick.

Pope Celestine sent Palladius to combat heresy in Ireland in 431, Mahoney said. Irish annals note the arrival of a Patrick in 432, and Mahoney said "this was Palladius."

Two dates are reported for the death of St. Patrick, 461 and 493. The saint's birth date is not known.

Mahoney believes it was Palladius who died in 461, and that St. Patrick took up his work.

Contract Clash Brings Election

Members of United Auto Workers Local 632 of the Harnischfeger Corp. in Escanaba took a strike vote on Wednesday and the Bargaining Committee placed notices in the plants today thanking members for a "vote of confidence over 90 per cent."

Local President Maurice Harrison said that the balloting was in connection with "an internal problem; something that should be solved by ourselves." He said the union would have no public announcement of the issue at this time.

Raymond O. Fish, manager of Harnischfeger's truck crane plant here, said similarly that the company had no announcement at this time.

Ivan Brown of Iron Mountain, international representative of the Auto Workers union, who was in Detroit today for conferences with UAW International officials with Harrison and Nick Brayak of Local 632, said that the controversy between union and management was over wages, specifically incentive pay for production workers and ratio premium pay for non-productive workers.

The incentive and ratio premium payments are income added above base pay to stimulate production.

Local 632 and Harnischfeger signed a three-year contract with a no strike clause last year. The contract sets up grievance procedures but Brown said that the local held it had been violated and "in our opinion, we have the right to strike."

He said the Wednesday vote did not mean a strike. "It only authorizes a strike if and when it is found to be the legal and feasible thing." Speaking before the polling ended he said "If a strike is authorized we will try to resolve the issues by further negotiations."

"The news from Harnischfeger was welcome last week," said Brown, referring to announcement that the company and City of Escanaba would collaborate in a plant expansion program, "but the news (on the contract interpretation dispute) isn't so good this week."

Harnischfeger Plans Addition At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE — Two bays, totaling 20,400 square feet of floor space, will be added to existing buildings of Harnischfeger Corp.'s main plant at 4400 W. National Ave.

A spokesman said the cost estimate was around $30,000. Construction will begin next week, with completion anticipated by late summer.

The new space will provide additional assembly area for industrial, construction and mining product lines, he said.

Federal Reserve Says Shortage Of Coins Ended

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve Wednesday officially declared the nation's coin shortage at an end.

On Aug. 20, 1964, the Federal Reserve agreed to accept deposits of coin from financial institutions and pay the transportation costs.

"This action was taken in conjunction with all other Federal Reserve banks to help relieve the coin shortage that then prevailed," said the New York Federal Reserve Bank. "Such practices no longer serve the purpose for which they were intended and are now being discontinued by all reserve banks."

Would Strengthen Great Lakes Fleet

Importance of the Great Lakes fleet to the national economy was cited in Washington by a subcommittee of President Johnson's Maritime Advisory Committee in recommending that three steps be taken toward assuring the country of an efficient and economic United States domestic fleet.

The subcommittee urged that provisions be made for (1) accelerated depreciation; (2) tax deferral for use in acquiring new ships and for reconstruction, and (3) adoption of provisions similar to the Canadian "Angel plan" to attract venture capital into the domestic trades.

The report said the United States domestic fleet today was "from any and all angles of view utterly and deplorably inadequate to serve its purposes and to accomplish the mission envisioned for it by the 1936 Merchant Marine Act and the Transportation Act of 1940."

"In the field of national defense assistance, the U. S. domestic fleet is a ghost of the fleet which served with such distinguished alacrity in World War II," the report said.

It quoted a Maritime Administration official to the effect that in the event of a national defense situation, requiring heavy volume of iron ore and other commodities, forms of transportation other than Great Lakes ships would not be capable of picking up the slack.

Coal, limestone, iron ore and grain, he added, would have to be moved by lake vessels, especially if foreign sources of iron ore were dried up.

The report said the average age of vessels in the Great Lakes fleet was 43 years as of 1963; and that "in less than 20 years, the U. S. flag ships' share of international Great Lakes cargo has fallen from about 85 per cent to a little more than 15 per cent."

One's True Age Told By Spirit

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — How young in heart are you?

Age is measured by many things—by changes in hair color, the acquisition of wrinkles, slowing of physical activity.

It is also shown by a "hardening of the mental arteries, the growth of cynicism and prejudice, and the development of a dislike for meeting new people or having new experiences."

By these last standards, some are elderly before they get out of college; others still are youthful at 70.

One's true age is told by the spirit. It is the real barometer of youth. And you are still pretty young in heart if—

You don't mind picking up a baby, even if it looks pretty sticky.

More Likes

When you hear of a 21-year-old football player being signed by the pros for a $200,000 bonus, you rather envy the fellow instead of thinking it is a national disgrace.

You can fill out an income tax form without getting an ulcer attack.

If one of your nephews decides to grow a beard, you don't necessarily think he's gone batty.

There are more things you like than dislike.

Children today don't seem much different to you than when you were a child yourself.

You can talk to a teen-ager about his ambitions or his hobbies without feeling self-conscious or sounding patronizing.

You recall the past with more affection than bitterness, but you wouldn't want to relive it as you are still too busy planning what you want to do in the future.

Hear New Joke

If a woman driver beats you to a parking place, you don't let it upset your digestion for more than two days.

You are never the first guest to leave a cocktail party.

Now and then you hear a joke you haven't heard before.

The advent of another April makes you feel lazy, but not particularly sad.

At least one day a week you whistle or hum while shaving.

You have as many friends younger than you as you do friends who are older.

Your life is filled more often with wonder than with sour regret.

So now you know whether you still hold springtime in your heart—or have become just one more fuddy-duddy on time's treadmill.

Court Rules On Surplus Money

Circuit Judge George S. Baldwin has ruled that $4,008.15 surplus money from the foreclosure of the Pines property formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mulhaupt should go to the estate of Joseph Levine.

Levine purchased the property at sale to protect a second mortgage. The money was over and above that needed to fill requirements. Lew Levine, son of Joseph Levine and residuary legatee will be awarded the money, held in trust by the court since Aug. 11, 1958.

The chancery suit decision states that a claim of the U.S. government was based on an invalid lien and that the defendant Mulhaups had no right to the surplus which could be assigned to the federal government, which had a tax lien. The U.S. government has indicated it will not appeal.

Beef Meeting Is Scheduled

A meeting on beef production is scheduled at 8 p. m. Tuesday, March 22 in the Cooperative Extension office with R. T. Hartwig, extension specialist in agricultural economics for Michigan State University as discussion leader.

Research on income from beef cow farms, compared with other farms and the breakeven cost of cattle feeders will be presented, along with data on row-calf costs and returns from Wyoming and the range country, Midwest, and Virginia to Maine.

Goals to equal or excel for profit from a beef cow herd will be given, with management suggestions.

Two Manistique residents have enlisted in the Army and will have eight weeks basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. Sgt. G. E. Lantz, Sault Ste. Marie recruiting counselor reports. They are Richard P. Govt. Curb On Prices Assailed

"Inflation should be controlled by monetary and fiscal measures and prices determined by competition and the supply-demand relationships of the market place," Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., said in his company's annual report.

Block described the federal government's action in the structural steel price dispute in January as an "all-out attack on a relatively minor increase."

"While the government's purpose—the prevention of inflation—is laudable, we do not believe this type of approach to the problem is proper," Block said. "Not only is it highly discriminatory with respect to the selected industries and their stockholders, but more importantly, it is a threat to our free system which can have far-reaching and harmful effects."

Inland set new records in sales, shipments and ingot production, but earnings fell 4 per cent to $68.4 million ($3.75 per share) compared with the 1964 record of $71.1 million ($3.91 per share).

"This disappointing showing resulted from substantial increases in our costs with no improvement in the average prices of our products," Block said. Depreciation charges, employment costs, and expenses related to the construction and breaking in of new facilities were the cost factors cited by Block as having risen markedly during the year.

Hart Tells Whyfors Of

Great Lakes Commission

What is the Upper Great Lakes Regional Redevelopment Commission all about? How will it run? What can northern Michigan expect from it?

These questions, Senator Philip A. Hart said, are the ones most often asked about the newly-created government agency. "There's a lot of understandable confusion," he said, about regional attacks on economic problems because it is a fairly new concept.

"What each person wants—and deserves—to know is: 'How will this affect me?'" Hart, one of the redevelopment plan's earliest supporters, listed his answers to come of the commonest questions:

1. Why was the Upper Great Lakes Commission set up?

It's a recognition of the fact that an area's economic problems and its resources don't stop at state lines. The northern counties of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota share the same problems and the same opportunities. Why not tackle them together.

The area now consumes more tax money than it generates. The federal government just figures it will be good business in the long run to provide the kind of pump-priming investment needed to get the area on its feet as a tax producer.

2. Will the federal government furnish most of the money?

Yes, probably almost all of it. The commission that decides how much money is needed and where it can best be spent will consist of the three state governors and a federal co-chairman.

3. What sort of thing might the Commission be expected to do?

First of all, it will see that the area gets all federal assistance possible under existing programs. Right now, there are communities eligible for federal funds for, say, sewage treatment plants, but the town hasn't the staff or technical know-how to apply.

It could also recommend projects that no current program would cover and for which new legislation would be required.

4. What kind of projects might be considered?

Well, I'm sure the Commission will give close study to fishing, mining, forestry and recreation. It will also look for ways to promote industrial development. How? First, the Commission will have to decide how each dollar can best be spent. But it could build power plants, fish stocking programs, new metals markets, recreational facilities, forestry research projects, highways or vigorous education and training programs.

5. How big is the Upper Great Lakes Region?

It consists of 119 counties.

The Michigan counties, numbering 45, include the U. P. counties of Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Dickinson, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Luce, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Ontonagon and Schoolcraft.

6. When will all this get started?

As soon as the President appoints a federal co-chairman. Then the Commission will begin holding hearings throughout the area to gather ideas and figure out priorities.

"As far as I'm concerned, it can't start soon enough. Michigan's north country certainly hasn't been sharing fully in national prosperity. Its young people have been moving out for too long. It's about time for the flow to be reversed," Hart said.

Plastic Garbage Bags Save Time

FERNDALE (AP)—What residents in this Detroit suburb didn't know about their neighbors may soon be revealed.

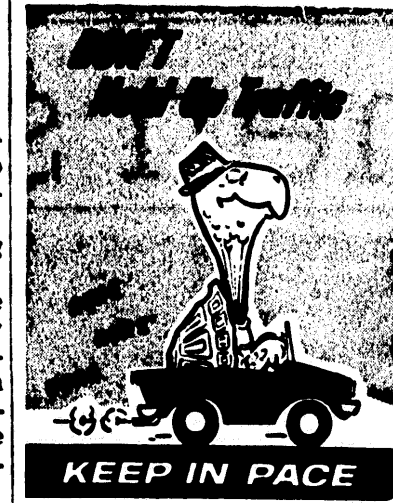

Ferndale is experimenting with transparent garbage bags. City Manager J. William Little says the heavy-duty bags, now being used by city commissioners, would line trash cans. On garbage pickup days, homeowners would haul the bags to the curb, leaving trash cans undented at the rear of the house.

Little says the bags save collection time.

"Besides," he added, "Ferndale has nothing to hide."

TV Cuts Fiction For Real Drama

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The big space doubleheader Wednesday started off in what has become, to veteran viewers of rocket launchings, completely uneventful fashion.

The countdown moved along briskly. The old space hands like ABC's Jules Bergman, CBS' Walter Cronkite and NBC's Huntley-Brinkley-McGee team slipped easily into the sometimes colorful, often confusing jargon of the astronauts.

When the sleek Titan rocket with its human payload lifted off gracefully in a cloud of coral-colored smoke, the preliminaries had been so precise and businesslike that this viewer, for the first time, watched with interest but without apprehension.

During most of the afternoon the networks returned to their usual strings of soap operas, game shows and comedy reruns until it was time for Gemini and Agena to dock. Then all networks returned to their special coverage, trotting out all their models and gadgets to demonstrate — for the 20th time, it seemed — the way the two crafts would join. It was still a textbook operation.

Then, in the middle of the early news shows on CBS and NBC, word came of the "violent maneuvers" of the docked capsules and astronaut Armstrong's report that Gemini continued to roll uncontrollably.

CBS' Walter Cronkite never finished the news show and continued right on covering Gemini. NBC, for some reason, started to broadcast its regular program, "The Virginian," but not for long. ABC started "Batman," then reported on Gemini, went back to "Batman" and finally dropped it. Fictitious adventures were dropped for real, high drama.

Information was scanty all through the evening. The television reporters speculated cautiously and soothingly — there was not much else they could do — but their own apprehension was obvious.

The good news finally came around 10:30 EST — it seemed to have been an eternity — that a rescue plane had "the space craft in sight" and that it had splashed down. Then, at 11:30, the suspense was definitely over — although the mystery of the malfunction was unsolved.

The three networks, as usual, did thoroughly workmanlike jobs of demonstrating in various ways all details of the space flight. One's choice of program could only have been dictated by the viewer's preference in commentators or the channel on which one had the best reception. As three did imaginative and professional coverage jobs.

The latest annual summary showed 1965 milk production of 5.7 billion pounds was down 125 million pounds.

New Ghana Stills Voice Of Soviets

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The once loud voice of the Soviet Union in Ghana has been lowered to a discreet diplomatic whisper.

Army and police officers who overthrew absent President Kwame Nkrumah Feb. 24 quickly ordered the expulsion of almost 1,000 Soviet advisers.

They were hustled through Accra airport at riflepoint and herded into Soviet-built transports belonging to Ghana Airways. The shuttle service to Moscow has ended.

Many reminders of the Soviet Union remain.

The army, which ousted all Russians except the Soviet Embassy staff, rides around in jeep-like cars built in the Soviet Union.

Buildings designed for wintry climes are a rusty reminder of ill-planned aid. These Soviet machines have closed cabins heated by the engine. Heat is the last thing needed in this tropical land.

The Ministry of Education is busily transferring teachers to fill gaps left by some 100 deported Soviet instructors.

A fishing project in nearby Tema, which even Western diplomats praised as expert and intelligent aid, is bogged down because many Soviet technicians were sent away.

Left unfinished is a $30-million airfield in northern Ghana which Westerners here understand was to provide an alternative stop for Moscow to Havana flights.

The cream of Ghanaian society once flocked to social gatherings at the Soviet embassy. Thousands turned out to greet Soviet space girl Valentina Tereshkova during her visit two years ago.

These Things Happen Now civil servants studiously avoid Soviet diplomats. Ghanaian journalists quickly moved away when a Soviet correspondent approached them at the local press club.

The Russians were overshadowed in recent years in Ghana by the Communist Chinese. Nkrumah favored Peking, according to one Ghanaian official, in the belief that China's agricultural economy had more in common with Ghana's than the industrialized Soviet Union.

Peking termed the revolt leading to the expulsion of its 200 advisers an "atrocity." Soviet Ambassador Georgi Rodionov reportedly commented: "These things happen."

Tax Boss Says Filing Is Easy

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you owe Uncle Sam some money on last year's income tax, take heart. You've got some high-level company.

Sheldon S. Cohen, who as commissioner of internal revenue is the federal government's top tax collector, disclosed today that he owes an additional $71.06 but plans to pay up this week.

April 15 is the deadline for filing income tax returns for 1965. If you owe money, it must be paid by that time. For Cohen, the $71.06 is the amount that his withholding fell short of his tax for the year.

Cohen said in an interview that he prepared his own tax return — "I do my own, I always have" — he and his wife have four children — and listed his occupation as government employee.

Struggle Needless That, he said, is so one of his employees in the Internal Revenue Service can't tell at a glance that it's the commissioner's return and won't shy away from withdrawing it for a possible audit if one appears necessary.

Cohen's return has been audited the last two years and found in good order, he said.

While many Americans find income tax time a yearly struggle, Cohen said it need not be. The greatest problem, he noted, is in accumulating the needed information.

"Most people are disorganized," he said. "They don't think of the information they'll need until they're ready to fill out the tax form. But once the information is available the rest is routine."

Keep Records What does Cohen do?

He said, for example, that he keeps a cigar box in the cupboard into which he and his wife drop drug store and similar receipts. He also pays all doctor bills by check and consequently has a handy record in canceled checks.

Another handy device, Cohen added, is to keep a record of any dividend and interest income throughout the year.

When income tax time rolled around, the commissioner said, he merely double-checked his records with his W2 form — the one which listed his government salary at $28,500 yearly — and the statements he received from banks and corporations in which he holds stock.

"It's a bit late for New Year's resolutions," Cohen said, "but people should resolve to have all the information available for income tax time by keeping records."

Car Buyers Set All-Time Record

DETROIT (AP) — New car buyers went on their biggest pre-spring shopping spree early this month as they bought more cars than ever before in any March 1-10 period.

Preliminary sales reports from the four United States automaking firms showed a record 256,427 cars were sold.

That smashed with ease the old mark of 232,860 set in the opening 10 days of March last year. It was only the third time that the 200,000 mark had been topped in a similar period. The other time was 1955 when 205,000 cars were sold.

Chrysler, Ford and General Motors all set corporate records for March 1-10 with only American Motors off its former high.

Industry sources were jubilant at the strong sales reports because the March 1-10 period traditionally has been regarded as a barometer of spring business.

E. R. Pettengill, general sales manager of Pontiac, commented: "Our sales continue to pick up momentum and the buying public is exposed to the spring fever bug."

Virtually every automotive division set records in the early part of March. Reports of highs came from Ford Division, Comet, Mercury, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Pontiac, Plymouth and Chrysler.

Pleads Guilty

DETROIT (AP) — Richard E. Mendis of Huntington Woods, one of 16 men indicted last November, Wednesday pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court to causing false statements to be submitted in obtaining Veterans Administration loans. Those indicted in the case included Benjamin Levinson, president of Franklin Mortgage Corp. and prominent in Democratic politics.

"That reminds me—would we REALLY let the VC have a say in a South Vietnamese coalition government?"

N. Viet Troops Badly Bloodied By Yank Jets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force sent a flight of B52 bombers today against a North Vietnamese regiment spotted in the D Zone jungle only 35 miles north of Saigon. Intelligence officers said it was the closest North Vietnamese regulars had been reported to the capital.

The B52s dropped their huge bomb loads only four miles ahead of thousands of U.S. and Australian foot soldiers cutting through the brush with machetes and jungle knives. As Operation Silver City on its 10th day slashed deeper into the old Communist stronghold, the Allied forces found 113 more bodies, bringing the enemy toll in a four-hour battle Wednesday to 275 killed.

An American source said two enemy wounded identified the troops as North Vietnamese regulars. One of them—a Viet Cong—said that his battalion of 400 men was 90 per cent North Vietnamese army regulars.

In the skies over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots evaded some surface-to-air missiles and also spotted enemy planes they thought were Soviet-designed MIG21s, advanced jets equal to some of the best American planes. The MIGs fled without attacking.

Action Picks Up

The U.S. command reported at its daily briefing: The U.S. 25th Infantry Division cracked into the Bao Trai area, 20 to 25 miles west of Saigon, in a sweep dubbed Operation Honolulu, after the jungle division's home base. Its aim is to clear the Viet Cong from the many waterways and underground networks in the sector.

American Air Force planes joined the U.S. 101st Airborne after the paratroopers stirred up light contact with the Communists in ricefields 12 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, on the South China Sea 240 miles northeast of Saigon. It appeared a major battle might be developing.

North Regulars

Intelligence officers said there may be one or two other regiments of North Vietnamese regulars in the D Zone jungle, where the Communists have ruled virtually unchallenged for 20 years. But today was the first time that Hanoi's troops as well as Southern-born Viet Cong have been reported there.

U. S. officers said the Communists were apparently badly bloodied by the repeated air strikes and artillery salvos that relieved an American paratrooper battalion attacked from all sides by some 600 Reds in the D Zone Wednesday. They called the four-hour fight, in which more than a mile-wide swath of jungle was ripped up, a classic demonstration of the ability of American firepower to blast the enemy ranks apart.

The battalion found 142 enemy dead outside its perimeter immediately after the action and 113 more bodies farther on. U.S. casualties were described as light.

Draft Calls 2,018 In State

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's local draft boards today were ordered to deliver 2,018 men for induction into the Army in April. The April call was the lowest for Michigan since last October, when 1,768 men were ordered for induction.

The highest recent call was December's 3,394. The decrease was attributed to a heavy increase in voluntary enlistments caused by pressure by the draft.

Selective Service headquarters said the April call will be filled largely by single men 19 through 25, and men married after last Aug. 26. Local boards have been authorized, however, to call men married on or before the Aug. 26 deadline if they do not have children.

It has been estimated that a 10-inch snowfall deposits over 5,000 cubic yards of snow on every mile of the average city street — 1,000 standard truckloads per mile.

Woods Workers Insurance Help Being Proposed

LANSING — Three Upper Peninsula Legislators — State Senator Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood), Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Dollar Bay) and Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) — invite everyone concerned with the woods working industry in the Upper Peninsula to attend a legislative hearing at Marquette, Friday night, March 18.

The hearing, to be conducted at the Northern Michigan University Student Center, starting at 7:30 p. m., is to consider Mack's proposed amendment to the 1965 Workmen's Compensation Law.

The bill is in the Senate Labor Committee, which will conduct the special open hearing. Under the bill, the woods working industry would be granted special consideration similar to that granted the foundry industry under Workmen's Compensation.

"This is undoubtedly one of the most important pieces of legislation affecting the Upper Peninsula this year," the lawmakers said, "and we cannot stress enough how important it is for all concerned with the industry to attend the meeting and make their views known."

The foundry industry section of the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Act has been changed to remove the old limit of $10,500 on the amount that a worker suffering silicosis (a lung condition caused by dust deposit) could receive from employer or insurer.

The new act provides that above $12,500 silicosis awards will be paid from a state silicosis fund and will not be chargeable to the employer or his insurance underwriter. Such a clause applied to woods workers.

Briefly Told

Leaves and rubbish should not be placed in the street, Escanaba residents were warned today by Kenneth Tushak, public works superintendent. The refuse should be placed in boxes or containers and put with the garbage for collection.

Minor injuries were suffered by Betty Jane Beckstrom, 1124 8th Ave. S., in a traffic mishap involving her car and an auto driven by Gary G. Russett of Kingsford, Escanaba police report. Russett was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way. The accident occurred at 8th Ave. S. and 11th St. shortly after noon Wednesday.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to John H. Rogers, Wells, speeding; Floyd E. Therrien, Wells, speeding and expired operator's license, improper starting and failure to yield to the police car emergency stop light; and Rosemary Propst, 412 S. 19th St., leaving a motor vehicle running unattended.

Grant G. Rae, 54, of 1432 Sheridan Road, today paid a fine of $25 and costs of $5 in Municipal Court for being drunk and in about an automobile. He was arrested by Escanaba police after a traffic accident in the 800 block, Stephenson Ave., Wednesday at 9:08 p. m. Rae was also fined for failing to have his car under control. The other car was driven by Richard H. Finlan of Wells.

John Leach, 43, of 1522 Stephenson Ave., entered a plea of guilty to an assault and battery charge in Municipal court today and was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $5 or go to jail for 15 days. He is also to make restitution in the amount of $125 to Audrey Winters, 306 N. 18th St., who made complaint against Leach. Police reported that Leach struck Mrs. Winters in the mouth, breaking her dentures and cutting her lips.

Experts Argue Anti-Inflation Tax Rise Timing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Economic Committee has proposed that Congress enact a standby tax increase but finds the experts divided on whether the boost should actually be put into effect.

Four noted economists split, two against two, in testimony Wednesday on whether taxes should be raised at once to fight inflation. Three of them emphasized that despite some overheating the price pot is not yet boiling.

The witnesses disagreed also on some details of what taxes should be changed, how, and by how much. But all said an income tax rise should be included, and all held that the spade-work should be done now for an anti-inflation tax law which might never be used.

The hearings continue today. While a subcommittee headed by Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., received testimony Wednesday, the full committee issued its formal report evaluating the President's annual economic message to Congress.

The Democratic majority — whose findings were disputed almost all the way down the line by the Republican committee members — recommended that:

1. A standby tax program "should be designed and enacted immediately with a provision that it should come into effect whenever Congress passes, and the President signs, a joint resolution bringing it into operation."

By the joint resolution technique it would be possible to write new tax rates into law in a single day, lawmakers said, instead of the two or more months normally needed.

2. The 7 per cent tax credit for business investment in new equipment and machinery should be suspended immediately. Enacted in 1962 to encourage plant modernization, the device has encouraged record-shattering industrial outlays.

The extraordinary exuberance indicated by investment programs "is one of the major inflationary threats of this year," the committee said.

3. The costs of the military buildup for Viet Nam should thus be covered by raising tax revenues instead of curtailing federal outlays for civilian programs.

The committee thus went even beyond President Johnson's request in his economic message that Congress prepare basic tax studies to "permit quick decisions and prompt action" to raise or lower taxes as a counter to either inflation or recession.

want to release the tape," said Operations Director Christopher C. Kraft. "Just because they said there was a problem with the No. 8 thruster does not mean this is so. We want to look at all the data and then try to decide what went wrong."

Violent Movement

Here's what the data now available indicates: Armstrong and Scott were preparing to make some maneuvers, using small Agena control jets to yaw the coupled craft. Purpose was to study resulting vibrations and their effect on the joined vehicles.

For some reason, there was a violent sideways movement, then the spaceships started to spin at a rate of about once every 10 seconds.

During this period, Armstrong's heart rate pulsed up to 150 beats a minute and Scott's to 135. Both normally register in the 70s. Armstrong managed to control the craft sufficiently to disconnect and back away from the Agena, which carried about 4,000 pounds of potentially dangerous fuel.

Re-Entry Ordered

The Agena then stabilized, but the Gemini resumed its rolling motion and went out of control. Armstrong was unable to operate his main engines to stop the motion. He activated a set of 16 thrusters that are normally used only for re-entry and was able to stabilize after wrestling with the problem for 30 minutes.

Gemini mission rules make it mandatory that the spacecraft return to earth as swiftly as possible once the re-entry jets are used. This is because continued use would deplete the fuel supply of the only system available for controlling the space ship during the vital re-entry.

The trouble occurred during the fifth orbit, as Gemini 8 was entering a series of global revolutions that would take it away from main recovery areas.

Recovery officials decided that a landing in the Western Pacific during orbit No. 7 would offer the fastest recovery.

Computers calculated the time to fire the retro-rockets, and Armstrong fired them without a hitch as Gemini 8 sailed high over Africa.

Then began a suspenseful 32-minute period during which the astronauts made a fiery dash back through the atmosphere, skimming over Arabia, India and Red China. There are no Gemini tracking stations within range of this path and thus no communication with the pilots during the descent.

Recovery forces steamed toward the landing zone 500 miles east southeast of Okinawa.

An Air Force C54 rescue plane was over the area when Gemini 8 floated down on its red and orange parachute splashdown at 10:23 p. m. or 12:23 p. m. local time, in calm seas.

Because of communications difficulties, it was an hour later before the world knew whether the astronauts were safe.

The destroyer Mason picked up the astronauts at 1:30 a. m. EST. The capsule was retrieved a few minutes later. Armstrong and Scott were reported in good physical condition by a medical technician aboard the ship.

Miss Carroll, a teacher in the Stephenson Elementary School, was a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Philip Carroll of Stephenson. The body is in the Diem Funeral Home.

Saint's Day Is Quiet In Dublin

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Irish police don't expect any trouble on St. Patrick's Day today but they're on the alert.

The day of Ireland's patron saint has always been a quiet affair here compared with celebrations elsewhere, especially in New York and Boston.

But nationalist extremists last week blew the top off the 134-foot Nelson monument in downtown Dublin, and the 50th anniversary of the 1916 Easter uprising against England is only three weeks away.

This, and a rash of recent bombings, have police keeping an eye out for hotheads. However, authorities said they didn't expect any political trouble today.

The festive day dawned with church bells calling all Irishmen to religious services. There was a special service at the Church of Ireland's Anglican Cathedral at Downpatrick, County Down, where some believe St. Patrick is buried.

The annual parade in Dublin is a commercial affair with advertising floats and pretty girls. For the first time its route down O'Connell Street was not dominated by Nelson's column. Government demolition squads have blasted the 50-foot stump that remained after the extremist blast.

The statue to Britain's most famous admiral was erected by British public subscription in 1809 to commemorate Lord Nelson's victory over the French at Trafalgar. To Irish nationalists it was a symbol of British oppression.

Extremists also recently hurled fire bombs at Dublin's British Legion (veterans) Club and set fire to the home of the British military attaché.

The outlawed Irish Republican Army has denied responsibility for the terrorism, which is attributed to a far-out extremist group. Its name is not generally known.

Negro Talk Of 'Get Mexicans' Makes Tension

past the liquor store and fired four blasts at Sanders and Newman. Sanders was wounded in the hand and throat. Newman was unhurt.

A fourth Negro, Francis Keyes, 43, ran out of the back to a telephone booth. The Mexican-Americans pursued him in their car and shot up the booth, but Keyes escaped without injury.

Later that night, Larson said, police received an anonymous tip that unidentified Negroes planned "to take care of" the liquor store's Mexican-American manager, Gilbert Yousef, either Tuesday night or Wednesday night, and bomb the store. Officers, directed by the tipster, found two gasoline bombs hidden under some bushes directly across the street from the store, which was later broken into and partially looted.

"I'd hate to say anything that would seem to pit one minority against another," said Riley, "but the persistent rumors and the quick retaliation in Monday night's incidents does seem to show an organized pattern of Negro versus Mexican hatred."

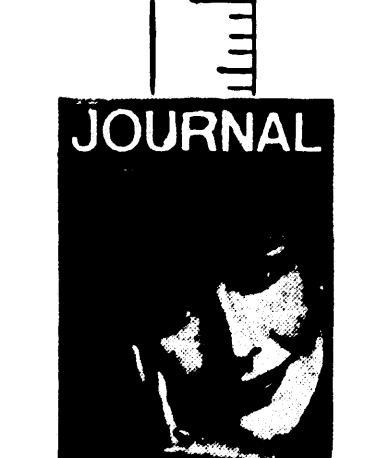

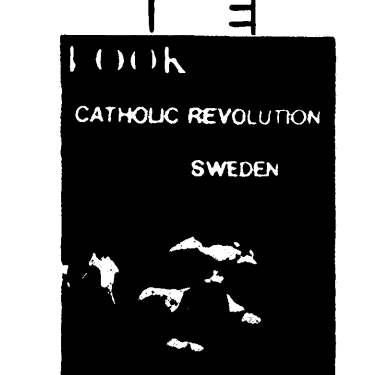

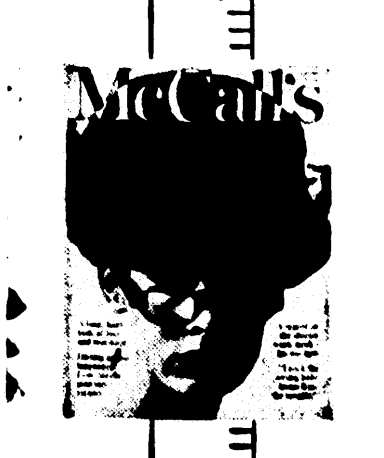

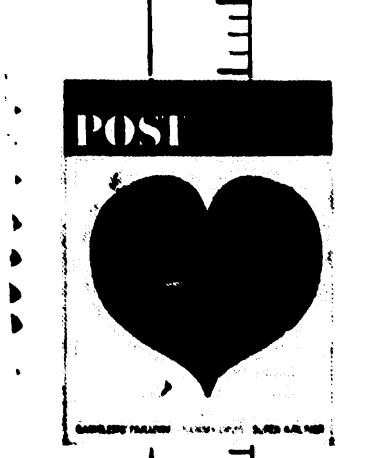

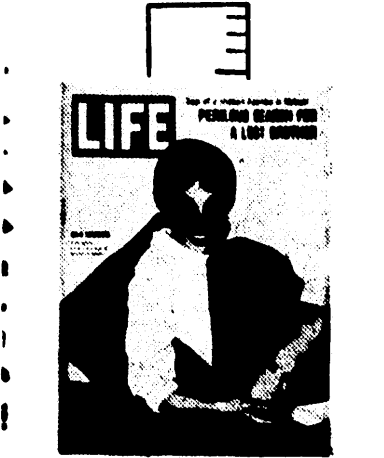

Against this bitter prelude, the Jordan High School yard and the nearby streets, where unemployed young Negroes loiter, were abuzz with talk of the shootings and plans for reprisal.

Many Negroes later told newsmen they had heard that a Negro had been shot to death and his Mexican-American attacker was not even arrested.

The truth, police said: Graves was released Wednesday from Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Clay Appeals Draft Status

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Casius Clay, known for fast fists and faster lip, kept a rein on the lip except to talk about the fists as he prepared to appear today before his draft board to protest his 1-A classification.

The generally acknowledged heavyweight champion refused to divulge Wednesday night the basis for his protest when he goes before Local Board 47, which reclassified him from 1-Y to 1-A on Feb. 17.

"I'm not talking to the press," he said. "I expect to talk to my attorney tomorrow, and we'll decide then what to appeal on."

Clay said after his reclassification that serving in the armed forces would be against his religious belief—in other words, that he is a conscientious objector. He is a member of the Black Muslims, an Islam sect.

But J. Allen Sherman, chairman of the local board, speculated that Clay would claim dependency, with the champion citing "either his mother or alimony payments."

Sherman said he doesn't think the alimony payments, the $177,500 Clay has been ordered to pay to his divorced wife Sonji Roi, would be valid ground for a continued deferment.

Clay said he would be accompanied at the hearing only by his personal attorney, Edward W. Jacko of New York.

And that's all Clay would say about the personal appearance.

Alpena Victim Of GR Catholic

By The Associated Press

Top ranked and unbeaten East Detroit had no trouble with Detroit Mumford and Ann Arbor brought down giant-killer East Lansing to advance to the Class A semifinals of the Michigan high school basketball tournament Wednesday night.

East Detroit jumped to a 22-10 first period lead and clicked on better than 50 per cent of its shots from the floor in drubbing Mumford, 71-56.

Ann Arbor overcame a one-point halftime deficit, grabbed the lead early in the third quarter and held on the rest of the way to nip East Lansing, 54-53. Grand Rapids Catholic bounced Alpena, 80-73, and Ferndale, the state champion in 1963, ended Dearborn Fordson's dreams with a 72-59 victory.

Arch Price led the taller and more accurate shooting East Detroit team with 26 points, while Larry Moore's 15 was best for Mumford.

Bob Sherwood scored 37 points for the winners and Harvey Marshall 34 for the losers in the top individual head-to-head battle of the night as Grand Rapids Catholic bested Alpena.

Catholic held a 51-34 lead at the half and had little trouble holding off Alpena's surge in the final two quarters.

Grand Rapids Catholic takes on Ann Arbor and East Detroit faces Ferndale at Friday's semifinal matches at East Lansing.

Red Wings Reel In Worst Slump

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, reeling under their worst slump in years, staggered home today, minus Gary Bergman.

The Boston Bruins, in last place in the National Hockey League, meet the Wings at Olympia Stadium tonight.

In other NHL games Tuesday, Montreal whipped Toronto 7-2 and Boston dumped New York 3-1.

Bergman who came up ill in the locker room hours before the Black Hawks trimmed Detroit 4-1 Wednesday, was sent to Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

"I don't know what it is," said Coach Sid Abel. "Bergie said he woke up with a terrible headache and little sense of balance."

Eastern Cage Coach Resigns

YPSILANTI (AP)—Dick Adams has resigned as Eastern Michigan University basketball coach to continue work toward an advanced degree but will remain at EMU as an instructor.

Adams has been head coach for six years, compiling a 59-59 over-all win-loss record.

The Hurons won 15 games and lost three last season, their best record since the 1933-34 season.

Adams has a six-month sabbatical leave to continue work toward a doctorate in physical education at the University of Michigan.

NEW SKIPPERS: DARK

Boy Is Stabbed Following State Tourney Contest

YPSILANTI (AP)—An East Detroit youth was stabbed and six other persons were injured in a brief fracas following the East Detroit-Detroit Mumford high school basketball game Wednesday night.

Sgt. Melvin Fuller, of the Eastern Michigan University campus police, said none of those injured were hospitalized.

He said the fight broke out as some 4,000 persons left EMU's Bowen Fieldhouse following a Class A quarterfinal game in which East Detroit defeated Mumford 71-56.

It was the second year in a row that a stabbing incident has marred the tournament. Both times Detroit schools were involved.

Last March, nine Highland Park High School students and fans were stabbed following the Highland Park-Detroit Northwestern game.

Fuller said John Olszewski, 18, was stabbed in the back. Fuller said doctors at Byers Hospital told him the knife struck a rib, but did not puncture Olszewski's lung.

Others injured included David Thomas, 18, and Gary Zollars, 18, both of Warren, and Guilio Catallo, 17, Jerry Cory, 18, Ernie Connors, 19, and Lee Porter, 17, all of East Detroit.

He said the boys, all of whom were white, were students at East Detroit High School.

"It was definitely not a racial incident," said Fuller. "Just rowdiness."

"The kids from Mumford were mad because they lost the ball game and they tried to take a team mascot from East Detroit."

That would bring baseball to bat on Friday for the presentation of evidence in defense of the National League and its members.

The financial issue is an integral part of Wisconsin's case against the senior circuit stemming from the Braves' move to Atlanta and the alleged consequent boycott of Milwaukee as a major league city.

Counsel held a two-hour conference Wednesday in Judge Elmer Roller's chambers on the confidential financial reports.

Afterward, Judge Roller announced that more information was required from accountants who have been examining the material which is under the protective custody of the court. He said the needed reports would be obtained overnight.

Some 234 exhibits offered by the state were accepted by Judge Roller after nearly two full days of frequently heated arguments.

Earlier in the day, the court accepted a book titled "Facts," written by former baseball commissioner Ford Frick. The defense had called it "hearsay" and argued that the commissioner did not claim to have authentic information on baseball's economic impact.

"When you get to this stage," he said, "when you've got teams that have been through this testing, when you've only got four left out of all the hundreds that started the season, you usually don't have that much left to pick from."

"I don't know a lot of these teams. I haven't seen them. I don't know their players. But I know Adolph Rupp. And from what I hear, he's got one of the greatest shooting teams he's ever had. And, young man, if that's true, he's got something."

The test comes Friday night when Kentucky, the No. 1 team in the nation and 26-1 for the season, puts its hopes for a record fifth NCAA national championship on the line against Duke, the No. 2 team at 25-3. They clash in the semifinals.

State Tourney Action Resumes Friday Night

By BERNIE KENNEDY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Seven rated teams, four of them unbeaten, move to the semifinals of the Michigan high school basketball tournament Friday after scoring impressive—though sometimes close—victories Wednesday night.

Four other teams rated as among the best in their class during the regular season, came to the end of their cage wars—three of them via upsets and another in a head-on clash with another member of the top 10.

In the only match between rated schools, unbeaten Trout Creek (No. 2) downed DeTour (No. 7), 85-77, in Class D. Bob Gale scored 32 points for the winners who scored 16 straight points, after trailing 27-25, to go ahead for good.

East Detroit, top-ranked in Class A, made it 22 in a row by clipping Detroit Mumford, 71-56, and Ann Arbor (No. 8) kept alive by edging East Lansing, 54-53, in the Class A headlines.

River Rouge, the Class B king for five years but figured no better than fourth best in the state this year, got 26 points from Frank Price in breezing past Holt, 64-68.

Ishpeming (No. 9) led all the way and got a 21-point scoring effort from Paul Valenti in clobbering Belding, 77-53, in another Class B game.

Middleville (No. 6) also led all the way in disposing of Leslie, 77-55, in a Class C game. Gary Stauffer collected 29 points for unbeaten Middleville.

Covert, defending Class D title and No. 1 all the way on this year's poll, found Grosse Pointe University School a tougher than expected opponent and had to struggle to gain a 74-61 verdict.

Royal Oak Shrine posted one of the upsets of the night when it broke away from a 19-19 tie and sent Marysville to the show-ers a loser, 66-59. Bob Turner and Dave Yaeger each had 14 points in a well-balanced attack for the winners, while Ron Goodin picked up 17 for Marysville, which had been ranked seventh.

Allegan (No. 6) played ball control after its tallest player, Don Anderson, fouled out early in the third quarter but couldn't prevent Grand Rapids East Christian from winning, 54-48, another Class B game.

Detroit Visitation (No. 10) missed eight of 13 free throws in the final quarter as it fell to Flint Holy Redeemer, 77-74, in another Class C game.

Tom Rutter's field goal with eight seconds to go gave Flint St. Mary a 57-56 victory over Maple Grove St. Michael in Class D. Tim Stephens scored 22 points and George Hankwitz 20 to pace Scottville to an 81-74 triumph over Saginaw SS. Peter & Paul in Class C and Gerry Gerard scored 30 points as L'Anse ousted Traverse City St. Francis, 83-61, in Class C, in some of the others.

All semifinal games will be played at six Lansing-area sites Friday night with the finals slated Saturday at Jenison Fieldhouse on the Michigan State University campus.

Sparma Is Sharp As Tigers Lose

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Detroit Tigers righthander Joe Sparma may have a good thing going for him and not know it.

Sparma, who made his first appearance of the spring season in a 4-2 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday, cut his right index finger on an automobile hubcap last spring. It healed and he won 13 games.

No sooner had Sparma reported at Lakeland this spring than he slammed a car door on his right index finger.

Sparma isn't sure if the accident will mean another winning season, but the Cardinals are impressed. He set them down in order for three innings, allowing only one ball to be hit out of the infield.

Bob Gibson, the Cardinals starter, fanned six and gave up two hits in blanking the Tigers over the first five innings.

The Cards broke the ice with three runs in the sixth when rookie first baseman George Kerner slammed a three-run homer off Orlando Pena.

The Tigers made it 3-2 in the seventh when Bill Freehan singled and Norm Cash stroked a 410-foot homer into deep right centerfield. It was the first round tripper for Cash this spring.

Tito Francona drove in the final Cardinal run with a long double in the eighth. The Tiger pitcher was Leo Marantette.

The Tigers take on Cincinnati today at Lakeland. Denny McLain and Bill Monbouquette are scheduled to pitch for Detroit.

Ray Nitschke To Speak At HN Banquet

Ray Nitschke, veteran Green Bay Packer linebacker, will be the speaker at the annual Holy Name all sports banquet sponsored by the Holy Name Booster Club Thursday, March 31.

Tickets are available to the general public through Holy Name students, at Ernie's Party Store and in Gladstone at Dehlin's Drug Store. Since the multi-purpose room is limited in seating capacity, fans are urged to purchase their tickets as early as possible. Reservations will be on a first come, first served basis.

Nitschke, 30, stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 240. He has been with the Packers for eight seasons after graduating from Illinois where he was a fullback.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople OUT OUR WAY

by J. R. Williams

MANISTIQUE County Board To Have Session

A meeting to consider possibilities for a joint city-county building on the courthouse block is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday in the courthouse.

Inwood Township supervisor Joel Carley announced the meeting at the board of supervisors session Tuesday night, noting that planning for the medical care facility has been arranged, and that shortage of office space for county functions exists.

A report on medical facility plans was presented by Walter Minor of the Welfare Department. The facility will be built in the hospital area.

Home For Aged

The board asked Minor about a request of First Baptist Church for a donation of land on which a home for the aged can be built. Minor said the church has offered to build such a home and has assurances of federal money for 100 per cent of the project.

The homes are necessary to prevent medical care facilities from becoming filled with those who need room and board but little nursing care, he indicated.

The board asked that the building and grounds committee, Minor, and the board chairman, Orson Livermore meet with Rev. Roy Pitts on the request. An area near the proposed facility was suggested as appropriate.

Tax Rolls

A report was received on remodeling of the welfare office to provide space for an added caseworker. The $1500 bill exclusive of electrical costs, has been referred to Minor, the chairman of the building and grounds committee and the contractor, Bradley Construction, for review. Bids were not taken for the work, it was reported.

Treasurer William Cowman presented a report on finances and asked that supervisors present their tax rolls to his office before turning them over to treasurers, for checking to be certain they are complete and in proper order. One supervisor, Agner Dehlin, asked if Cowman wanted to "cancel the rolls," and was advised this was not the intent.

Two veteran burial allowances were approved by the board, and $100 per year pay increases were approved for four employees not included in a prior salary action.

Bonding For Dumps

A report on a meeting on zoning during the Michigan Week observance was presented by Dean Rhoades, who also reported on planning for retirement village. Federal officials are scheduled to come in a week or two relative to the project, he said.

A committee assigned to make inquiry at the hospital regarding a heat failure while Floyd Sample was a patient, reported the hospital regretted the incident, acknowledging that it did occur. The committee found patients well-satisfied with care and noted that some did not even realize the heat failure had occurred during the night. The maintenance force was not called at the time, the report stated.

During the meeting Supervisor Carley questioned new legislation which requires that townships and others operating dumps must post bonds, stating "townships are units of government and should not have to be bonded." The health committee was asked to check on arrangements being made for disposal from highway and state parks, as it is reported the Federal Forest Service is discontinuing dumps it has arranged.

Ambulance Need

Reports were received from the County Road Commission, which reported also on a proposal of the Good Roads Federation to increase the gas tax one cent and raise license fees.

The health committee reported on the associated health departments formed by the Luce-Mackinac and Alger-Schoolcraft units and financing.

A report on ambulance service provided by the city Public Safety department was presented by S. C. Gesko Jr. The vehicle will need replacing, it was indicated.

1. Card of Thanks Carlson

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation of the wonderful acts of kindness shown us by neighbors and friends at the time of the tragic death of our son and brother, James Carlson. We especially wish to thank those who sent cards, flowers and other gifts, the pallbearers, the Rev. George Olson and the Women of Calvary Lutheran Church who served refreshments, and all who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

The Arnold Carlson Family

Hall

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends, neighbors and relatives who by acts of kindness and sympathy aided and comforted us in the death of our beloved husband, father, son and brother Robert Hall. Especially do we thank Rev. Ben Helmer for his comforting words, those who sent floral bouquets, plants, sympathy cards, those who contributed to the Cancer Fund and those who helped in other ways. Your kind deeds will never be forgotten.

Mrs. Robert J. Hall and Children, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Anderson, brother, Norbert K. Hall and family of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.

Rouse

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear husband, Clarence Rouse. We are grateful to Fr. Thompson for his comforting words, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers, spiritual bouquets, those who offered the use of their cars. We thank you all.

Mrs. Eva Rouse Brothers, Sisters, Nieces and Nephews

Plans Group To Hear Knowles

WAUSAU, Wis.—Wisconsin's Governor Warren P. Knowles will speak at a meeting of the Northern Great Lakes Resource Development Committee, here March 22-24 at the Hotel Wausau.

Citizen committee members from Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin are expected to attend the three-day session along with state and federal agency representatives, and advisors from Michigan State University.

Members on the committee from Michigan are: Harold Dettman, St. Ignace; Edward Gould, West Branch; Fred Hahne, Manistique; Roy Howes, Copenish; Roy Jensen, Escanaba; Stanley McRae, Mackinaw City; Edward Mawby, Suttons Bay.

Gov. Knowles will discuss the role of the regional planning commission in the Northern Great Lakes region at 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

The meeting will explore problems and opportunities in the forest industries of the three-state region. Harvey Wolter, Eagle River, Wis., is chairman of the 18-member citizen committee and Dettman is vice chairman.

A tour of a maple syrup processing plant, a particle board manufacturing firm, and Christmas tree plantation will open the session March 22.

George James, regional forester with the U. S. Forest Service, Milwaukee, will discuss the challenges facing the forestry industry.

Other topics to be discussed include economic opportunities for the forestry industry, marketing of special forest products, industrial development in the wood-using industries, problems of wood procurement, and current forest products research.

Escanaba winters can't stop C&NW unit trains!

Ship your ore via the C&NW and forget about the weather. All year long, C&NW unit trains offer daily service, scheduled delivery, and rates that help you keep your ore prices competitive. Make your ore shipping dollars work harder for you around the clock, around the calendar—ship the Chicago and North Western route.

CHICAGO AND NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY

THE CHICAGO & North Western Railway, which has contributed so much to the economy of Escanaba in its more than a century of operations here, deals the Iron Port a back-hander in this advertisement published in February in Skillings Mining Review. Escanaba's ore shipping season has been lengthened over the years by the North Western and an all-year port has been envisioned and declared physically feasible by Coast Guard authorities. The C&NW, pushing for more ore haul business, suggests in this advertisement that steel mills needn't wait for the April-through-December Great Lakes ore traffic out of Escanaba, but can be served by all-year, all-rail haul on unit trains.

No Bullfights At State Fair

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's State Fair general manager Wednesday rejected an offer from a Milwaukee promoter for a so called "bloodless bullfight" at the State Fairgrounds.

Manager Walter A. Goodman said the exhibition, similar to one staged in Houston, Texas, would be "inconsistent with the purpose of the Michigan State Fair."

Goodman took his position in a recommendation to the Michigan State Fair Authority, the fair's governing group, that the authority adopt an antibullfight policy.
